SAGT Scalp Setup Brief SAGT is running on massive 11.52x relative volume with an 80% gap up, likely driven by being highlighted as a top pre-market gainer creating momentum trader interest. The extreme low float (effectively 0M tradeable shares) makes this a high-risk/high-reward setup prone to violent moves in both directions. Look for entries on pullbacks to VWAP or key support levels around $2.20-2.30 rather than chasing the current momentum. Watch for any volume spikes above 2.60 as a potential breakout catalyst, but be ready for quick reversals given the thin float structure.

FCEL Scalp Setup Brief FCEL is running on sector sympathy from Bloom Energy's massive earnings beat and raised AI-driven guidance, with 9.75x relative volume confirming strong institutional interest in fuel cell plays. Key risk is the large 53M share float which could create significant resistance on any momentum fade. Look for entries on pullbacks to the $10.80-$10.90 support zone with tight stops below $10.70. Watch for volume expansion above $11.20 - a break there could trigger algorithmic buying toward the $11.50-$11.75 resistance cluster.

TRAW Scalp Setup Brief TRAW is running on healthcare sector momentum with 12.9x relative volume and a 15.7% gap up, currently consolidating around $1.29 after the morning spike. The 8M float provides decent liquidity for quick entries/exits, but the key risk is the extended move from overnight levels creating potential for sharp pullbacks. Look for entries on volume-supported bounces off the $1.25-$1.27 zone or momentum continuation breaks above $1.35 with size. Watch the bid/ask spread closely - any widening signals reduced liquidity and time to exit fast.

PRCH Scalp Setup Brief PRCH is running +19.7% on strong Q1 earnings with raised guidance, backed by massive 6.48x relative volume indicating serious institutional interest. The large 82M float creates resistance to sustained momentum, making this more suitable for quick scalps on pullback entries rather than momentum chasing at current levels. Look for entries on any dip toward $9.80-$10.00 support with tight stops below $9.70. Watch for volume exhaustion above $10.50 - if it can't hold with strong volume, expect a sharp reversal given the extended gap.

KALV Scalp Setup Brief KALV is running +38.8% on 6.39x relative volume, likely driven by pre-market momentum as a top gainer with strong institutional interest given its 38M float size. The key risk is the lack of a specific fundamental catalyst beyond being flagged as a top mover, making this purely technical momentum that could reverse quickly. Ideal entry would be on a pullback to support levels with volume confirmation, looking for continuation of the gap-up move. Watch for volume sustainability above 5x - if RVOL drops significantly, the momentum play is likely exhausted.*
