RLYB Scalp Setup Brief RLYB is ripping +49% on news that Candid terminated their merger agreement, creating a classic M&A; breakup momentum play with 4.37x relative volume driving the action. Key risk: Low float (3M shares) makes this extremely volatile with potential for violent reversals on any profit-taking or negative sentiment shift. Entry context: Look for pullback entries on volume confirmation around psychological levels ($14, $13.50) or breakout continuation above $14.20 if it holds with conviction. Watch: The $15 resistance zone - if it breaks and holds above with volume, this could see another leg up, but failure there likely triggers fast selling back to $13 range.

FTCI Scalp Setup Brief FTCI gapped up 180% on massive 9x relative volume, likely on earnings anticipation or sector rotation into solar, but the catalyst is stale (89+ hours old) suggesting this is momentum/squeeze driven rather than fresh news. Key risk: With a 12M float and already extended price action, this could see rapid profit-taking and volatility compression as the initial momentum fades. Ideal entry: Wait for a pullback to VWAP or key support levels on decreased volume, then scalp bounces with tight stops as day traders cycle in and out. Watch: Volume profile - if RVOL starts declining below 5x while price consolidates, the setup loses its edge quickly.
