DARE Scalp Setup Brief DARE is running +14.2% on massive 13.3x relative volume following disappointing Q4 earnings, creating a classic "bad news bounce" setup as shorts cover and dip buyers step in. Key risk is the light 13M float which can amplify moves in both directions, making position sizing critical. Look for entries on pullbacks to VWAP or previous resistance around $3.40 with tight stops below. Watch for volume expansion above $3.60 - a break could trigger another leg up toward $4.00 psychological resistance.

DGXX SCALP SETUP - BULLISH BIAS DGXX is exploding +35% on a massive $1.1B data center contract with AI chipmaker Cerebras, driving 9.73x relative volume in this hot AI infrastructure play. Key risk is the 59M float which could create volatile swings once momentum fades, but current volume suggests strong institutional interest. Look for entries on any pullback to $5.00-5.10 support with tight stops, or momentum continuation breaks above $5.50 resistance. Watch for any signs of volume exhaustion or rejection at the $6.00 psychological level where profit-taking may accelerate.

FTRE Scalp Setup Brief FTRE is running +15% on Q1 earnings beat with explosive 7x relative volume, creating prime momentum conditions for scalp plays. Key risk is the large 93M float which could absorb buying pressure and stall momentum once initial catalyst excitement fades. Look for entries on pullbacks to VWAP or whole dollar support levels ($14.00) with tight risk management given the gap-up nature. Watch for volume confirmation on any breakout above $14.50 - failure to hold elevated volume signals momentum exhaustion and exit opportunity. Decision: GO - Strong catalyst + exceptional volume = scalp-friendly environment.*

IART Scalp Setup Brief IART is running +17.7% on strong Q1 earnings beat with 5.4x relative volume, creating momentum continuation opportunities on pullbacks to support levels. Key risk is the large 67M share float which could dampen explosive moves and create choppy action once initial momentum fades. Look for entries on minor pullbacks to VWAP or previous resistance-turned-support around $11.80-$12.00 range with tight stops. Watch for volume spikes above 2M shares/5min candle as confirmation for breakout continuation above $12.75 resistance.*

VRDN Scalp Setup Brief VRDN is spiking 32% on news positioning the company as an Amgen rival in thyroid eye disease treatment, with massive 6.3x relative volume confirming institutional interest. The key risk is the large 94M float which could create supply overhead on any momentum fade. Look for entries on pullbacks to the $17.80-$18.00 support zone with tight stops below $17.50, targeting quick scalps to $19.20-$19.50 resistance. Watch for volume expansion above $19.00 - a break could trigger additional momentum, but be ready to exit fast if volume starts dying off at resistance.*
