MX SCALP SETUP BRIEF MX is running hot on automotive performance comparison coverage driving 6.23x relative volume with a +17.8% move and clean +10.5% gap up - catalyst is 53 hours old but still fueling momentum. Risk: Extended from gap with moderate 27M float means potential for quick reversals on profit-taking. Entry context: Look for consolidation above $6.00 psychological support or breakout above $6.25 resistance with volume confirmation. Watch: Volume sustainability - if RVOL drops below 3x, momentum likely fading fast.

ATOM Scalp Setup Brief ATOM is running on massive 12x volume after expanding its GaN modeling collaboration with Synopsys, sparking speculation about broader semiconductor partnerships and revenue potential. The 37M float is relatively thick which limits explosive moves, but the +13.5% momentum with 10.5% gap provides solid scalping range. Look for entries on pullbacks to $9.50-$9.60 support with quick profit-taking on any push toward $10.20-$10.50 resistance. Watch for any follow-up news or partnership announcements that could extend the rally, but be ready to cut losses quickly if volume dies and price breaks back under $9.40.

SMX SCALP SETUP - GO SMX is ripping 21% on massive 27x volume after Time magazine feature on recycled plastics, putting this micro-float (4M) sustainability play in the spotlight. The media catalyst is fresh (1.6h ago) and the combination of ESG momentum + tiny float creates explosive conditions for continuation. Entry: Look for pullbacks to $2.20-2.25 support or breakout above $2.40 resistance with volume confirmation. Key Risk: Micro-float means violent reversals possible - respect your stops religiously. Watch: Volume sustainability above 10x RVOL to confirm institutional interest beyond the initial pop.*
