MX Scalp Setup Brief MX is running hard on Q1 earnings catalyst with massive 6.23x relative volume and +15.1% gap up, indicating strong institutional interest in this semiconductor play. Risk: At $6.04 with 27M float, this has room to squeeze but watch for profit-taking around psychological $6.50 resistance. Entry: Look for pullback to $5.80-5.90 support for long bias, or break above $6.20 with volume confirmation. Watch: Pre-market volume sustainability - if RVOL drops below 3x during regular hours, momentum may be fading fast.

ATOM Scalp Setup Brief ATOM is ripping +9.3% on 12x relative volume following positive coverage about the semiconductor company's momentum, creating prime scalp conditions with its clean 37M float. The key risk is the extended +10.5% gap that could face profit-taking pressure, especially if broader semiconductor momentum stalls. Look for entries on any pullback to support levels or flag consolidations above $9.20, targeting quick 2-3% moves on the momentum. Watch for volume confirmation on any breakout above $9.50 - if volume dries up, expect consolidation or reversal.
